INDIANAPOLIS LEADER.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Correspondents will please make their communications as brief and concise as possible. Owing to our limited space, we are frequently compelled to leave out matter that we would like to publish, but can not for want of space. All letters outside of Indianapolis should reach us Thursday, and all communications written on both sides of the paper will be refused.)

Urbana Ohio.

Mrs. Luella Tuck of Columbus, is visiting the family of Mr. Alfred Boyd.

The beautiful and accomplished Miss Eva Jackson, of Bellefontaine, presided at the organ, at the concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jackson of Marion, Ohio, are in the city, having been called here by the death of his sister, Mrs. Gant.

The Rev. P. T. Taylor, and Messrs. S. Hunter and S. Wernell, spent the first of the week in Bellefontaine doing the Lord's service.

On last Saturday morning, Mrs. C. L. Gant, who has been an invalid for about two years, was released from her sufferings by the hand of Death.

A. Ashworth of Loganport Ind., is spending the week here among friends. He is on his way to Nashville, Tenn., whither he will be gone a month or more.

The Excelsior Glee Club, B. D. Morse, director, gave a very fine concert at the Second Baptist Church on last Tuesday evening. This was the first appearance of the young men and their performance exhibited the talents taken by their skillful leader and aroused the suspicion that they are preparing for the road.

The Rev. L. B. Moss offers his suburban residence for sale at a bargain to the purchaser, and we would be glad to see it pass into the possession of some enterprising colored mechanic. The property is situated on a fine lot on the Springfield pike just one mile from the public square, and opposite the Champion county fair grounds. The property is in excellent repair and consists of a two-story frame dwelling, stable, carriage house, and other necessary out-houses, blacksmith shop, well and cistern, fruit and ornamental trees and one acre of ground.

Letters received from Columbus from Representative Ogden, Dr. Warner, C. E. Hanson, and others convey the cheering intelligence that Mr. G. B. Hamlet is slowly recovering from his severe and dangerous attack of pneumonia. All that faithful brethren, loving friends and skillful physicians could contribute has been freely employed to win him back to health. Mrs. Taylor, of this city, an old and experienced nurse, is at his bedside daily, and two brother old fellows keep watch nightly. Mr. S. Gatewood, grand sick agent, of P. G. M. Council of which he, Hamlet, is the G. M. G. M., paid him a visit last Sunday.

Cincinnati Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. James Newman and baby. We are three.

Wm. Turner is a student in the medical department of Ann Arbor University. Elijah Bullett is suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

The West End Cornet Band is negotiating an engagement to travel with John Robinson's circus.

Mrs. Ivanor Lindsay is visiting friends in the Blue Grass regions of Kentucky.

Charles Hawkins will go west this summer. Powhattan Battle will place his dramatic production on the stage this fall.

Madame Selika should be here and allowed the privilege of raising her silvery notes in Music Hall.

The handsome wife of Cincinnati Harding is making Cincinnati her home for a short season.

Dr. E. H. Hawkins will soon enter a partnership business.

James Augustus is the oldest member of the waters' mutual aid society.

One of the most prominent society organizations is about to come to a premature end, because every one cannot be first man.

Look out for some high developments in society circles soon.

Miss Sadie Denham, a beautiful young lady of Bethel (O.), is here attending school.

Old Jeff Davis has some colored relatives in the "Forest City."

Fortie, the splay contributor to the Review will soon become a benedict. A Lexington belle has captured his heart.

A strictly news medium is the real and only mission of the LEADER, and any item of news addressed to Louis R. Lewis, at Graves' Restaurant, 30 West 5th street, will receive prompt attention.

Revels are at present well spread in our midst and are doing effective service.

Louis Stafford, and Ross Armstrong; Misses Eliza Byrd and Stella Green; Messrs Dandridge, Saunders, Hamilton, Richard Bracy, Ben Harrison, Geo. Hamilton, and "Rush."

Theodore Tru, Esq., holds that religious sympathy and dark colored skin go hand in hand. Mrs. E. Williamson, of the Harper Sisters' Combination, is in the city.

Rev. J. Mitchell of the Allen Temple is a graduate of Oberlin.

A false rumor of smallpox was started from one of the tenement houses of the east end, not long since, by a drunken physician named Watson and Mrs. Celestia Taylor, a comely young widow, was the unfortunate upon whom the false charge was made, and it is very needless to say that the lady was placed in a very embarrassing position, knowing as she did that no symptoms of smallpox were upon her person, having had when very young, the varioloid, an acknowledged preventative to the dread disease.

RUSH.

Springfield Ohio.

If we can detect the purpose of these principles which are taught in the schools of Springfield, and especially that Christian influence exerted in the High School, we cannot conceive how it is that some of the young men will wander so far from the path of rectitude. Old and young men return again to the path from which you have wandered. It is unwise to say that your comrades are the cause of your being subjected to the city authorities, we will say to other men who happened to visit Hider Bangs, dare to say that they are true, for your men's sins can never save you.

The Second Baptist Church celebrated the Lord's Supper last Sabbath morning with ten young ladies and two men, who were received into the church. We extend the hand of congratulation.

The most enjoyable sight our eyes fell upon as we began to leave the city of last week was the name "Rush," and we began to contemplate over it and to ask ourselves the question, "Does it mean that he, whoever he is, will rush out as suddenly as he rushed into the LEADER, or will he allow himself to be 'Hider Bangs'?" But if you intend to rush out and on to success, then we congratulate you on your attempt.

NICK NACKS.

W. P. Myers has returned to Springfield to complete his High School studies.

L. P. Hunter continues to gain fame as a photographer, said A. N. Y. Young man, do not peep at the window if you want to see her; they have two doors by which you can enter the parlor.

Mrs. J. C. What has become of the Shakespeare Club? We have been waiting for her to work.

James Wilson spent Sunday in the city, the guest of D. E. Smith; he speaks positively of married schools next year in this city.

H. M. Wilson is pleased to inform his many friends that it was another "Hubert Wilson" and not himself that died with the smallpox.

Samuel Lindsey's tendered quite an extensive programme Friday evening. The President is still encouraged.

Miss H. L. what would you do if both your beaux should visit here at once?

H. C. Gouin, a Cincinnati young man will visit this city soon. Girls prepare for him.

The west school has received quite an addition in the person of Miss L. Hart.

It is rumored that Miss Mamie Yates is engaged to a well-known society gentleman of this city.

D. E. prepare to shed tears for you remember the pet name you gave her last summer when you attempted to prove that you thought that your school days were too many.

The young lady who called on John Jackson on last winter last week we advise to adhere to his mother's advice which was so kindly given, and by 2 p. m. the sure of the city streets, and it was with difficulty that the point of water over the levee at that point could be prevented. Between 12 and 1 o'clock the city bells were rung, and the places of business and hastened to the scene of threatened danger. The wind soon died away, and by 2 p. m. the sun shone brightly.

S. L. Dickson makes frequent visits to the west end. S. L. says she is a daisy; so do we.

Miss L. Johnson says that her next cake will take the cake.

Miss J. C. says the Dayton man is a fraud but the western man is not.

E. L. N.

A Wind Storm on the Mississippi.

Memphis, Feb. 16.—A special from Helena, Ark., to the Western Associated Press says: "A heavy gale prevailed here this morning, the wind blowing from the South at the rate of thirty-five or forty miles per hour. During the night the levee at the upper corner of the river were three to four feet high, and poured over the levee in front of Commercial row at a fearful rate."

The city bells were rung, and the places of business and hastened to the scene of threatened danger. The wind soon died away, and by 2 p. m. the sun shone brightly.

An engineer upon the Southern Pacific Railroad recently sent to General Manager Mechanic A. J. Stevens, from Gil Bend, an assortment of the semi-tropical animal pests of that region. Among them is a centipede, about seven inches in length and half an inch in diameter; a tarantula, with a body over two inches long and legs over a circular space of fully six inches. About half a dozen scorpions are among the lot. The longest are over six inches. An interesting specimen of the tarantula hawk, which resembles a large wasp in appearance, but about as large again as that insect. It is said to have been given the name it bears from the fact of its enemy to the tarantula. It lights down upon the tarantula, and bites it to death, and then finishes up its destructive work by eating off its legs. Among the collection are also several Gila monsters, which are simply overgrown lizards, the largest of which are more than sixteen inches in length. A "beautiful" rattlesnake, with seven rattles and a button, which the engineer found in his bed beside him upon waking up one morning, was also sent to Mr. Stevens. The engineer acquired a "lively" interest in this make upon first sight.

THE ASSASSIN.

Mrs. Garfield Denies Having Intervened to Save Guitau.

At the Home of Guitau's Sister—Fixed Relief in His Insanity.

A Cleveland special of the 12th to the New York Herald says:

"Promoted by rumor current in Washington to the effect that Mrs. Garfield had written a letter to President Arthur asking him to reprieve Guitau the representative of the Herald visited the residence of the lady, on Euclid avenue, to ascertain in what position, if any, there was for the report. Reaching her quiet home about 7 o'clock, the reporter found the lady sitting through an open door. I discovered the wife of the married President surrounded by the young members of the family, she was reading aloud to them, and the low, half-mourning cadence of her voice fell pleasantly upon the ear. Sending in a card, I was ushered into the reception room, where Mrs. Garfield soon appeared. She was sitting in a high-backed chair, looking bright and cheerful, her face free from the terrible affliction through which she has passed. Advancing to the door, she greeted me with cordial greeting. An inquiry after her health elicited the response that she was feeling very well and that all the members of the family were happy and contented. She then turned to the subject of the assassination through which she has passed. Advancing to the door, she greeted me with cordial greeting.
